

We love blockchain technology and sharing.
Our mission is to build the smart sharing economy of tomorrow.

Slock.it is an innovative, award-winning German startup in a unique position to be able to scale rapidly. Using blockchain technology, we help IoT devices to participate as autonomous players in the sharing economy. We connect them and all other participants of the sharing economy on one global, universal sharing platform. Alongside, we share our technology expertise with other companies and help them exploring blockchain technology.
